

Maître du Temps Chapter One

Conceived by a kind of 'watchmaking supergroup', three famous names from the world of haute horology were assembled by Maître du Temps ('Masters of Time') to realise the Chapter One, namely Christophe Claret, Roger Dubuis and Peter Speake-Marin, and predictably enough, their combined talents have come up with something rather special indeed.

Its unique combination of retrograde date and GMT indicators, a one-minute tourbillon, a 60-minute counter and, most prominently, precision moonphase and day displays in the form of two cleverly crafted rollers makes for a feature-rich, yet beautifully laid-out display, all framed by a gleaming 18-carat red or white gold case. Set for release this autumn, it's undeniably impressive and certainly has us intrigued as to what the next instalment of the Maître du Temps story will bring...
